Join Battlefield Leadership on February 2-5, 2026, for the Foundations of Leadership, which explores compelling leaders and how they built trust with their teams and organizations.

This online training is for everyone but we will be targeting development for first-time and junior leaders. As participants dive into relevant case studies, they will explore themes that include decision-making under pressure, ethical leadership, adaptability in the face of change, disciplined initiative, and the power of vision.

Real characters and case studies that stick

Battlefield Leadership’s credentialed and experienced facilitators use dramatic film clips portraying leaders in real situations to build concrete examples of how character, courage and competence can strengthen your team.

The case studies showcase a range of industries—from fashion executives to championship sports coaches, titans of the food and beverage industry to world leaders and heads of state. Download the event brochure and follow the link below to register for the program.
